...that extra touch

LIVE LIFE WELL™

Karen Garner began Magnolia Homes in 1987, choosing the Magnolia to represent the business. “I plant a Magnolia tree in every yard so people will recognize our homes,” she says. Those iconic Magnolia trees are now a familiar site throughout the Memphis area.

As a woman in a male-dominated world, Karen embraced her uniqueness. She knew what women really wanted in a home, and that gave her the competitive edge.

She found her niche within the special details like covered porches, expansive closet space, and cozy living areas. Those “extra touches” are part of the Magnolia Homes’ signature style, and give each Magnolia home a feel of unique elegance and luxury.

Karen’s son, Reggie Garner, Jr., became a partner in 2000, and brought in innovative ideas such as cedar-beamed vaulted ceilings and outdoor living, including incorporating fireplaces. Reggie’s enthusiasm for exquisite exterior designs set Magnolia apart even more.
